2019 GRADUATION

IT'S TALKTIME, DRYDEN BEGINS NEW GRADUATION TRADITION

Prior to graduation, the Dryden Class of 2019 selected their favorite children's books and wrote special messages inside them. These signed copies will be gifted to the incoming kindergarten class in the fall. This project was coordinated by 'It's Talktime, Dryden,' a group of Dryden educators including speech pathologists and classroom teachers who are committed to promoting early childhood literacy.

This year, the project was made possible by Family Engagement Focus funding.

"We would love if [this project] became a tradition," said Dryden Speech-Language Pathologist, Mary Balfour.

'It's Talktime, Dryden' hopes to raise money next year to continue this meaningful tradition within the District.

FREEVILLE ELEMENTARY STUDENTS VISIT TOAD'S TOO; ICE CREAM OASIS

Freeville Elementary students made their annual trip to Toad's Too; Ice Cream Oasis during their last full week of school. It has become a Freeville tradition that the students look forward to as a fun way to end the school year and move into summer. Kathie Perkins, the owner of Toad's Too in Freeville, started this tradition almost 30 years ago, along with her husband Dave Perkins when they opened the restaurant Toad's. It was across the street from her current ice cream stand. The generosity of the Perkins is greatly appreciated by both the students and staff at Freeville Elementary School.

THE 2019 DRYDEN HS/MS ART SHOW

Written by Morgan Pursell

Recently, the Dryden High and Middle Schools hosted the annual Dryden Art Show, which occurred on May 21st in the Middle School gym. It was open all day to the students of Dryden School, and was open from 5:00-7:00pm for the public. This event contained a wide variety of styles, subjects, and mediums, all of which displayed the talents and improvements of different age levels. The show featured works from Ceramics, Video Production, Studio In Art, Crafts, AP 2D Studio Art, Drawing and Painting, Photography, Advanced Photography Dark Room, Media Arts, and Graphic Design. The Art Department and their classes worked tirelessly during class periods on Monday, May 20th, and during after-school hours starting May 17th, setting up and making sure that the event was as perfect as perfect could be. After the show had concluded, students and staff had cleaned the whole gym by 10:00 am the next day. Students began to give positive feedback about the event after participating, helping, or simply viewing the show. Morgan Best, an Intro to Video student, says that the art show "showed the creative minds of Dryden students," and was "a very fun and interesting experience!" Another student, Daniel Guenther, who takes Intro to Photography, claimed that he enjoyed the way "the artwork [was] set up in a nice way, and [he liked] the way they provided snacks." Not only did students give positive feedback about the event, but Joshua Bacigalupi, the school's Superintendent, also responded positively. "I was incredibly impressed by the depth and breadth of the work that art students in the Middle and High School showcased at the Art Show. . . . Everywhere I turned, there was a piece of art that sparked conversation, spoke to our human experience, or stirred the soul." He concluded his positive statements with: "The talent that Dryden students have in regard to the Visual Arts is something that we should be proud of and continue to support and encourage." With all of the positive feedback from students, teachers, staff, and the public, we hope to make next year's show even more remarkable. Given the talent of Dryden students, they never cease to amaze!

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO DRYDEN'S 2019 VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTORIAN

Alexandria Scotti

Valedictorian Alexandria Scotti

will be attending SUNY Geneseo next year to major in Biology/Pre-Med. She plans to become an orthopedic surgeon. During her time at Dryden, Scotti was an active member of the Dryden National Honor Society and volunteered with the Salvation Army and Willowbrook Manner. She was also a member of the Dryden Interact Club and the Dryden High School Student Leadership Team, which promotes positive changes in the school. Outside of the classroom, Scotti enjoyed remote control car racing. Her parents are Brian and Melissa Scotti.

Felix Abel-Ferretti

Salutarian Felix Abel-Ferretti

will be attending Cornell University next year to major in Biological Engineering. He plans to become a researcher within this field. While at Dryden, Abel-Ferretti was a year-round athlete on the varsity soccer and indoor soccer team for all four years of high school. He was team captain, as well as selected 1st Team All-Star for three years and 2nd Team All-Star for one year. Abel-Ferretti also participated in outdoor track, varsity basketball and lacrosse during his time at Dryden. He was recognized as Kiwanis Student of the Month as a senior. His parents are Ben Abel and Eveline Ferretti.

LINDSAY RECOGNIZED AT TST BOCES CTE AWARDS

Congratulations to Thomas Lindsay III for being awarded the Arthur L. Berkey achievement award and being named a runner-up Career & Tech Student of the Year. Lindsay studied Heavy Equipment during his time at TST BOCES.

DRYDEN GAMES

At this year's 5th Annual Dryden Games, students competed in a variety of obstacle courses and races. Students were awarded points at each competition and received medals at the end of the day. We were excited to welcome students from TST BOCES to participate in the fun again this year. Thank you to Krista Gillette, volunteers and sponsors for helping make this year's Dryden Games a success. Another thank you is extended to Tompkins Cortland Community College for hosting this fun-filled event.
